

Synopsis: A Rake's Rebellion

After a night of debauchery, Baron Brice Barclay wakes up to find a woman in his bed. That's not unusual, but this one is fully clothed. When she tells him they are married, he is instantly cold sober.

Sarah Vincent is the ward of the Earl of Lockwood, a man who wants to rid himself of his burdensome American cousin. At the Prince Regent's house party, he manages to dupe them into signing their own marriage certificate while thinking they are only witnessing another rather hasty wedding.

Having been raised in a convent, Sarah is both naïve and pious, qualities that are at odds with Brice's lifestyle...one he has no intention of giving up.

That changes when a newfound friend gives Sarah a copy of the Kama Sutra and his prim and proper wife becomes his wildest fantasy. But now that she's experienced physical pleasure, will he be able to keep her interest?

